COUNCIL GETS DEBENTURE ENQUIRIES

Three Firms Want Particulars Re Debentures for Sale Council May Purchase 4 Horses For The Town

The regular meeting of the town council was held in the council chamber, last Monday evening. Present were Mayor Bell and Councillors Devitt, McLachlan, Hodge, Ireland and Robertson.

The minutes of the last special meeting were read and adopted. Returning Officer Henderson reported that the two by-laws submitted to the town burgesses on March 22nd had been carried. These by-laws were those given their third reading and finally passed by the council. These were the deficiency and market by-laws.

The Winnipeg Industrial Bureau wrote informing the council that the rent for Redcliff's space in the building would be reduced 35 cent, commencing April 1st. A committee was appointed to investigate this matter and see if it was advisable to keep the booth.

Letters were read from three different financial firms asking for particulars regarding the debentures the town has for sale at the present time. The secretary was instructed to order printed post cards to be sent out with the necessary notices. The object of this was so that receiving the notices might notify the assessor if the loan assessed had changed hands since last year.

The committee appointed to look into the matter of purchasing horses for the town reported that they had nothing definite at present but that they were negotiating for the purchase of four horses on reasonable terms. These horses to be used to tow the town work and also to be kept handy for use on the fire engine.

The mayor said that he thought the first Friday school plainly there was room for some improvement in our fire fighting equipment. He called to our residents and merchants he thought this department should be as efficient as possible. Councillor McLachlan said that the fire committee were working in this matter and would have a report for next meeting. Councillor Hodge introduced the question of having a waiting room of some kind for farmers wives coming to town, along the line of the Review a few weeks ago. He thought the idea a good one and was in favor of starting something of that nature provided it could be done without too much of an expenditure. He thought the merchants and the ladies' organizations in connection with the different churches would would make the place comfortable. The mayor then appointed a committee of Councillors Hodge and Ireland to take this matter up and see what could be done in that direction and report at the next meeting.

The sanitary committee reported that there were still some cases of typhoid fever in town which were being properly attended to and as a result were a nuisance to others. The sanitary officer was then instructed to inform the by-law in this respect and if necessary prosecute those who did not live up to it.

Councillor Hodge asked for some information regarding the agreement between the town and the railway company regarding the street track at the east end of the town. As the required information was not available in committee consisting of Councillors Hodge, Ireland and Robertson was appointed to investigate and report at the next meeting.

Councillor Ireland was appointed deputy expropriation mayor for the next quarter.

On behalf of the residents in the vicinity of the pound R. L. Stone asked the council if it would be possible to have the pound moved. As his present location was right in the center of the town and at the front door of some of the citizens, he desired being more pleasing to the eye, the ear or the nose. It was a great attraction for flies. The matter was referred to the sanitary committee.

A new movement of the old Culbertson cask on the west bank of the Passamaquoddy River was cleared up Monday. The cask was cleared up Tuesday and re-opened.

League Football Game on Tuesday

The first league football match of the season will be played here next Monday evening between the local United and the Victoria of Medicine Hat. The game will start at 8:15 on the foot ball grounds on Main street. On Saturday evening of this week there will be a full house of all local players commencing at 6:30. After this practice the committee will meet for the purpose of selecting the team to play the schedule game Tuesday evening. A full turnout of players is requested for Saturday night.

Canadians Shelled by the Germans

While resting in billets several miles behind the firing line some of the Canadians were heavily shelled, but the casualties were not heavy. One shell hit a man and exploded among members of the 12th battalion, two were killed and five wounded.

A report is current that half the division had some sharp fighting but details are lacking.

Another batch of medically unfit soldiers for Canada last week.

IMMIGRANTS WILL COME TO CANADA AFTER WAR.

There will be a flood of immigration to the United States and Canada at the conclusion of the war, according to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"The men of northern and central Europe," he said, "are beginning to feel free to leave their native lands than ever before. Forced military service, among other things, must be more repellant to them now than ever before. The war has put an end to this content will invite them."

"Canada is in much the same situation," he said, "as the United States. We are making an effort to get them, just as the railways of the Western United States are doing."

Good Progress at Liberty Oil Well

At present good progress is being made in drilling operations at the Liberty Oil well on the bank of the river near here. When down about 200 feet the drill struck rock and gravel. This caused a few days delay waiting for a new casing. Now, however, after passing the rock and are going down at a good rate. At present they are at 125 feet and everything is working fine.

Presentation; to Rev. H. V. Hinkle

About 75 members and adherents of the Methodist church assembled in the hall last Tuesday evening for a farewell gathering for Rev. H. V. Hinkle, who has resigned the pastorate here and is leaving shortly for the west.

An most enjoyable evening was spent, during which a number of games were played and a musical program rendered.

On behalf of the Philadelphia class, Mr. Cable presented Mr. Hinkle with a leather travelling bag. In making the presentation he said the class deeply regretted the removal of their pastor and wished him every success in his new field. In acknowledging the gift Mr. Hinkle made a very fitting reply.

Mr. Hicks to Start Ice Cream Parlors

T. A. Hicks, who has been conducting a gentle furnishing store here, is having his building renovated and put in shape for an ice cream parlor and confectionery store. Mr. Hicks is fitting up the front of the store so as to be in a position to handle all kinds of fruit in season and can factories, and the rear will be used as an ice cream parlor. Carpenters have been at work for the past few days and expect to have everything in shape for Mr. Hicks to start business about Wednesday of next week. It is his intention to run an up-to-date refreshment counter in every particular.

The stand is splendidly located for such a business and Mr. Hicks is well qualified to run such a business. We bespeak for him a brilliant success in his new venture.

NO ELECTION FOR COUNCIL OR TRUSTEES

W. Oates Elected To Council By Acclamation—No Can- didate In The Field For Trustee

Nomination day to select candidates to fill the vacancies on the council and school board was held last Monday and passed off very quietly. For a while it looked as though no one was going to be nominated for either vacancies but in the last few minutes there was a little flurry and three names were put in to the returning officer's hands. These were:

For the council, ex-councillor LaVelle and W. Oates were nominated and for trustee board D. Broadfoot was the only candidate nominated.

Since the close of nominations both Mr. LaVelle and Mr. Broadfoot have retired from the field. This means that Mr. Oates has been declared elected by acclamation for the council and that there is still a vacancy on the school board, as Mr. Broadfoot was the only one in the field.

As Mr. Broadfoot was on the board before but resigned a few weeks ago he is, according to the school ordinance still a member until his successor is appointed.

Since they are no further ahead now than before the date set for nomination there is nothing left for the board to do but to call for another day. In the meantime it will be well for the rate payers would look around for a suitable man to fill the vacancy.

Dutch Aroused Over Sinking of Ship

Although it is not yet certain that a German submarine was responsible for the sinking to the bottom of the Dutch steamer Katerwijk of the North Hinder Lightship last night, the sinking of the vessel has aroused the indignation of the Dutch people, as evidenced by the editorials of the newspapers in Holland.

The Katerwijk, which was loaded with grain from Belgium consigned to the Dutch government, is reported to have been sunk by an anchor at the quay of the Dutch flag. The Dutch newspapers insist, therefore, that no mistake could have been made and that if a German submarine actually torpedoed the steamer "we must protest that the German government will, without loss of time, be made responsible for the severe violation of the rights of neutral powers."

The trial name of the man known as Raymond Eschwege, now on trial before a court martial on charges of desertion and espionage, is Raymond Eschwege, according to the Paris Journal.

Post Card From Reservist E. Scott

No. 26 Company, 2nd battalion, Grenadier Guards, Guards' brigade, British Expeditionary Force.

March 23rd, 1915. Just a line from the front to let you know I am well and that we are engaged in some very severe fighting in a most important position. Indeed our positions have always been of the greatest importance and always have we shown the Germans that we are their superiors in any tactics they employ, no matter where or when.

Please remember me to Redcliff. E. SCOTT.

I. O. O. F. Will Hold Anniversary Dance

The Redcliff lodge No. 90, I. O. O. F., are giving a dance in Reid's hall on Monday, April 26th, to celebrate the 4th anniversary of the order. All members of the order are expected to attend. A carnival invitation is extended to all visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. During the evening refreshments will be served and the lodge orchestra will furnish the music for the evening. Gent's tickets $5.00. The committee in charge will greatly appreciate any assistance the lady Rebekahs may give in helping to make the evening a success.

Business Promising At Ornamental Iron

During the past week business at the Ornamental Iron has picked up wonderfully well and since they opened up for business it has gradually increased until now they have about 35 men employed. In this plant the increase in the staff of necessity is to be gradual. The pattern makers have first to get their patterns ready for the molders, then come the foundrymen. They all get on very well doing their best but new things are on a fair way to have a stall of from the building of Winnipeg and already this work is some of the largest castings the factory has ever turned out.

Orders cancelled before the war are now being renewed and new orders are coming in almost daily. At present the staff is busily engaged on work in connection with the building of Winnipeg and already this work is some of the largest castings the factory has ever turned out.

SHOE FACTORY GETS ORDER FOR MILITARY SHOES

Samples Shown at Ottawa Was Best of Any—All Western Military Men Went Redcliff Shoes.

The management of the shoe factory here received word this week to the effect that it was the intention of the military department to place a substantial order for military shoes to be made by the factory, with them. The size of the order is not yet fixed but we have reason to believe it will be one of the largest to be placed with any shoe factory in Canada.

Samples of the military shoes made at this factory were sent to the department at Ottawa for examination and we have in the very best authority that the sample submitted from this factory was not only among the best but was THE best that had so far been submitted for their inspection.

Although work has not started on the filling of this order as yet it is expected that within the next few days the necessary details will be arranged and the entire staff will be kept busy for some time.

Military men both in Calgary and Medicine Hat are all anxious to get the boots made in Redcliff and it is expected that all the western men will be supplied with these boots. Made in Canada is the big cry just now but western men are clamouring for good made in western Canada. In this respect the soldiers may be expected to do their duty as in other respects, hence the great demand for Redcliff made boots at the present time.

Great Campaign for Another Big Army

A great patriotic campaign to secure recruits for Earl Kitchener's new army was opened in London a few days ago. The campaign is in the hands of a committee. It is carried on for a fortnight. Meetings addressed by Liberal, Unionist, Labour and Irish members of parliament were held in Hyde Park, Trafalgar Square and other centres of the capital, while hundreds of agents distributed pamphlets showing the gap separation allowances and other advantages given to soldiers of the army. The result of the Trafalgar Square meeting 200 recruits registered at the chief recruiting office near by.

During the fortnight's campaign 1,000 meetings will be held throughout the country in street marches.

Seven sailors are raging on the Adriatic. Advice received from Serbia and Montenegro is to the effect that had weather be preventing military operations.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS FROM ST. AMBROSE

Hold Annual Meeting Last Thursday—New Church is Free From Debt—Votes of Thanks Passed

The annual Easter meeting of St. Ambrose church took place on Thursday, April 15th, at 8 p. m., and was opened with prayer. After a short resume of the year's work was given by the vicar, the balance sheet of the finances of the church was presented by Mr. Harbert, the parson's warden and audited copies were circulated for inspection. The building fund account showed that the church has been built free of debt. While the general and stipend account showed a small balance on the right side. The balance sheet was adopted, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Harbert for the thorough and businesslike way in which he had handled the finances of the church during the past year.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the various vestry and members of the building committee for their services, special mention being made of the latter committee and of Mr. Harbert and Mr. Harbert, the parson's warden and audited copies were circulated for inspection. The building fund account showed that the church has been built free of debt. While the general and stipend account showed a small balance on the right side. The balance sheet was adopted, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Harbert for the thorough and businesslike way in which he had handled the finances of the church during the past year.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then proceeded with and the following were elected: vicar, Mr. Harbert; warden, Mr. Harbert; vestry, Mr. Harbert; Mr. Harbert, the parson's warden and audited copies were circulated for inspection. The building fund account showed that the church has been built free of debt. While the general and stipend account showed a small balance on the right side. The balance sheet was adopted, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Harbert for the thorough and businesslike way in which he had handled the finances of the church during the past year.

The declarations of office were then signed by the newly elected officers and the minutes book signed by all present and the meeting was closed with prayer.

Postage Stamps May Be Used

The Post Office Department, having given notice two years ago in connection with the War Revenue Act that all letters and postcards mailed in Canada for delivery in Canada, the United States or Mexico, and letters mailed in Canada for delivery in the United Kingdom and British possessions generally, or wherever the two cent rate applied, should in addition to ordinary postage, carry a one cent stamp as a war tax, and also having notified the public that such war tax, while it should be paid preferably by the postage stamp marked "War Tax," could, if such stamp were not available, be paid by an ordinary one cent postage stamp, is now issuing forthwith notice to the effect that postage stamps may be used for the prepayment of war duties on bank cheques, bills of exchange, promissory notes, exchange money orders, remittance orders, or other financial documents, or where there is no collector of inland revenue and no inland revenue stamps could be obtained, to a distant convenience to the public, and no doubt will be largely taken advantage of.

FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1915.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire last Friday evening showed conclusively that there is room for some improvement in our fire equipment. There has always in past been delays experienced in getting horses to the fire hall and this one appears to have been no exception.

According to last Monday's council meeting the fire committee intends considering the advisability of suggesting some improvements. This being the case we would like to draw their attention to a suggestion made in the Review some time ago about purchasing a motor truck for this purpose. This, as we said at that time, could be fitted up with a detachable box to hold the hose in and during the day the truck could be used for doing the town's draying.

In the past the brigade has done exceptionally good work with the equipment at its disposal but we think it would be a good idea if they would have frequent practice runs to different parts of the town so as to familiarize themselves with the location of the hydrants and to be more expert in making couplings. They do very well now but practice makes more perfect.

We feel sure that any improvement in the apparatus the committee might suggest will receive the hearty support of every rate payer as this is one department of the town's business which should be as good as it is possible to have it.

DO YOUR DUTY.

The lawlessness and apparent indifference of the rate-payers regarding the nominations for the by-election on the council and school board last Monday surely is no credit to the town or the people in it. As is so often the case the matter of looking around for suitable men to fill the vacancies in both these important bodies was left till the eleventh hour, and as a result it was with the greatest difficulty that candidates were secured. In fact as far as the school board is concerned there is, as yet, no candidate in the field, as the only nominee has since retired.

It is a great mistake for rate-payers to let themselves grow indifferent in these matters.

Men with the necessary qualifications and ability should not have to be coaxed to accept public office if the rate payers have confidence in them to ask them to do so. Somebody must fill these offices if the civic machinery is to be kept in motion and it is the duty of our citizens to do their share in this respect. Surely, there are scores of men in town capable of filling the vacancy on the school board. The man who is not prepared to assume his share of the work in this respect has no right to sit back and criticize those who are.

-SHOULD HAVE BLACK LIST.

The appointment of commissioners by the government to go thoroughly into the charges of graft in connection with the purchase of war materials, is good news to the people as a whole, and it is earnestly hoped they will have no stone thrown to bring the guilty parties to justice. Already Major McQuarrie of the transport section of the militia department, who accepted money to use his influence for certain firms, has been compelled to resign. Another officer who had to do with the purchase of binoculars has been suspended, and the drug clerk who made unduly large profits on the sale of supplies has been compelled to give back the money.

The inquiry into the boot question is still under consideration and it is hoped some severe lessons will be taught those connected with graft in that line.

For the benefit of the public and as a punishment for the guilty ones, the government should start a "Black List" of those who turn the war to account for enriching or unduly profiting themselves. Any man or firm or corporation that has gains at the expense of the state or at the risk of the health or life of the state's defenders should be brought to punishment. If beyond the reach of the ordinary process of law, such offenders should be stamped with the brand of public infamy. No patriot will envy the man who has taken the opportunity of war to fill his pockets while his countrymen are fighting or denying themselves for the country's defence. Looters caught in the act are usually shot in their tracks.

COMING INTO OUR OWN

That the west is slowly but surely coming into its own and that the governments at Ottawa are realizing as never before the importance of the west to the development of Canada, but of the Empire, is becoming more evident every day. In an endeavor to encourage agriculture in the west the federal government has been spending large sums of money. For seed grain and relief they have spent nearly $12,000,000; for storage elevators, $5,000,000; for agricultural aid, $10,000,000, to say nothing of large annual votes for agriculture. Then there is the expenditure of $7,000,000 on the Hudson's Bay enterprise, requested by the western farmers.

All this goes to show the brilliant future which is inevitable in store for western Canada; that our dream of one day becoming the great granary of the Empire is about to be realized in the not very distant future, and that Canada will continue to stand out as the brightest gem in the crown of Britannia.

BRITAIN'S POWER IS HER NAVY.

The present conflict in Europe has demonstrated beyond the possibility of doubt that the maintenance of Britain's superiority at sea and the expansion of the wheat areas in British Dominion have been linked together as basic factors in the consideration of plans for imperial offense and defense. The lawmakers in London, as a matter of policy, have allowed nothing to interfere with the building up of an all-powerful navy and they have steadily ignored the protests of Englishmen who have contended that Great Britain would be in an impossible position if a war should develop with a powerful maritime power in England who believed that in the event of an important European struggle involving Great Britain the hunger of London would dictate terms for peace. But the admiralty was convinced that the sea power of Britain would keep all the routes open for foodstuffs. The lands in the British Isles which might have been devoted to the growth of more wheat were left as before, and the producers of Britain, by placing their funds in the bonds of railways in Canada, in South Africa, in Australia and in New Zealand, where vast stretches of fertile country remained to be opened up, encouraged the production of a steady supply of foodstuffs which might be called upon in case of emergency. The under-water craft of Germany have failed to throttle the shipping of Great Britain. Her ships come and go almost as they please. And the resources of wheat lands, in themselves many times the area of the British Isles, are available for the need of the people of Britain.

THE CLOUDS ARE LIFTING

The Review has on various occasions in the past, predicted that Redcliff would be among the first towns in the west to recover from the dull times brought about first by the money stringency and accentuated by the war. Although we have not yet by a long way reached our old time swing of activities in our several industries, a start has been made and we are optimistic enough to feel that that prediction is on the threshold of becoming true. Although not now running at anything like full force both the Rolling Mill and the Ornamental Iron works have started operations with promising prospects for the future. Orders cancelled at the outbreak of the war are now being renewed and enquiries for new work are coming almost daily. The Shoe factory, which was just about to enter upon its slack season, has received the assurance of a substantial order for military boots from the government. This will mean steady employment for the full staff for some time.

The Motor factory has sold three trucks to the militia department and prospects are good for disposing of their whole stock on hand.

All this means new money put in circulation in our town and as the saying goes, "every little bit helps."

Building operations throughout the country will, in all probability, be the best to pick up, and as a result so will our brick plants, as their business is governed entirely by the building operations. In this respect, too, the clouds appear to be lifting. According to financial journals and daily papers money is getting easier for development of this nature and building operations in the larger centres will be resumed shortly. Among the first to start in this direction will be our Provincial and Dominion governments, both of which have a number of old buildings maligned in their estimates for construction in the year.

On the whole we feel that the horizon is brightening and that better times are in store for the future.

It has been suggested to the Review that the next time there is an election in town every rate payer on the list should be nominated for either councillor or school trustee. It would be a good way to get all the back taxes paid up.

DRAWING UP BUSINESS.

Greatly spring in driving before the chilly air of adversity. Trade is being so persuasively coaxed out that it cannot help but respond. Business is getting better in spite of the optimistic assertions of the many that they have no money to spend. Money is tight, of course, but those parties there are many who have it but will not use it. Business will continue to improve because of the realization that the "bottom" is near. It is abundance the things that the world most needs. It would improve much quicker if the general public would only itself to warm up like the weather.—Mosses Jaw News.

QUESTION OF WORK AND "MADE-IN-CANADA"

Editor: Situation of Grave Concern to Canadian—Cooperation From all Sides to Give Work

The war has had a sudden and pronounced effect on the "Made-in-Canada" movement, which has been carried on in Canada during the past few years. Hitherto the educational campaign, to promote the sale of "Made-in-Canada" goods, has been viewed pretty much as the concern of Canadian manufacturers, and has, for this reason, been done with sympathy and support of a section of the people. The war has changed all this, and today the "Made-in-Canada" policy is no longer looked upon as a matter of sentiment and patriotism, but is regarded as an economic necessity. The manufacturers and other large employers of labour have been appealed to by press, pulp and public men generally to provide the means of employment with a view to relieving the distress caused by the closing of many factories as a result of the war. Obviously Canadian factories cannot be operated unless there is a demand for their products. Hence the appeal on every hand to Canadians to patronize the goods made by their fellow-citizens in Canadian factories. It is admitted on all sides that there will be considerable unemployment, and consequent suffering during the next few months in Canada, but if every Canadian would, as far as possible, patronize home industries, orders would come in to many Canadian factories that have hitherto been placed abroad, and instead of a slackening in factory activity the "cheets of industry" might be operated with accelerated speed during this period of trial.

Manufacturers and other large employers of labour have agreed among themselves to maintain their selling staffs as fully as possible even if they operate at cost or in some cases below cost. In so doing they are not actuated by any desire for profit, because in these would be, but solely with a view of relieving the distress which unemployment always brings. They feel that it is far better to furnish a livelihood for Canadians through their work and honest trade than to do so at a glance through charitable institutions. "Made-in-Canada" is, therefore, more than ever a practical business policy to follow. Every Canadian householder who purchases goods in Canada should practice it and encourage others to do likewise. About one-third of every dollar spent on the product of a factory goes to the workman. All interests are, therefore, combining in Canada during the next few months to increase employment by distributing as much as possible in the form of wages to the Canadian workmen in the Canadian factories. The Canadian War Production Association in this direction is the most commendable, and will do much to restore confidence in the business and industrial community.

THE OUTLOOK IN CANADA

Handicap For Some Industries—Increased Activity For Others

Truly, it is an ill-wind that blows nobody good. One Canadian's "blow" is another Canadian's "breeze." The industries of Europe are, generally speaking, at a standstill, and matters will be worse before they can be better.

The whole world is looking to the North American Continent—for Canada and the United States—for much of its provisions, machinery, textiles, boots and shoes, beverages, vehicles, cement, brick, earthenware, fancy goods, furs, glass, hardware, soap, tobacco, wood, products, and much else. Canada must get ready to meet the demand made upon her. We have continued properly ahead of us if our manufacturers and merchants rise quickly to take advantage of their opportunity.

Encouraging Manufacturers

Last week was "Made in Winnipeg" week in the Manitoba capital, and the manufacturers, retailers and distributors generally were engaged in bringing the products of local industries before the public, and to urge Winnipeg people to help build up a local market, by using goods made in local factories. The object is a most worthy and commendable one, and the citizens who have been made by the citizens shows that western cities as well as the older cities of the East are developing a close unity and local patriotism that will be for the good of the community.—From "Winnipeg's Weekly," May 27.

CANADA WILL HAVE 150,000 SOLDIERS IN THE FIRING LINE

More than Wellington had at the Battle of Waterloo—Premier Explains Reason For Delay of Second Contingent.

At the evening sitting of the federal house last Saturday before adjournment, in the estimates was taken up, Sir Robert Borden made an important statement as to the number of troops of Canada under arms in Europe and the Dominion. He quoted the announcements of policy as to the organization of contingents made by the government in October and November last. The program has provided for the enrolment of 108,000 officers and men, and it has been carried out to date. Sir Robert gave the following figures, compiled by the adjutant-general to show the extent to which the plan has been worked out. The forces under arms are as follows:

Overseas, first contingent and reinforcements, 35,428 officers and men; in Bermuda, the Royal Canadian rifles, 982 officers and men; in St. Lucia, detachment for garrison, 200; in Canada, second contingent, C. E. F., 22,276; reserve infantry battalions and Canadian mounted rifles, 37,079; recruited and organized for overseas service, but not mobilized, 3,000; a total overseas service of 89,263. In addition there were Canadian units of the active militia on guard and outpost duty; a permanent force 2,430, making a grand total of 101,660.

"That force," said the prime minister, "is more than four times as numerous as the force of British troops under Wellington at Waterloo, and twice as numerous as the total force of either Wellington or Napoleon at that battle. I think the people may congratulate themselves that in a period of only eight months so great a force has been organized, armed and equipped, and to know that the number of guns which went abroad with the first contingent considerably exceeds the number of guns Wellington had at his disposal at Waterloo."

"It is proper," said the prime minister, "that I should here make a statement which would, at a next comment upon the delay which has taken place in sending forward the second contingent. That contingent could have been sent forward three months ago. The war office was informed of the fact, and has been kept informed from time to time. The date at which the contingent was to go forward was arranged some two months ago. Honorable gentlemen will understand that I cannot give any information as to what that date is. I merely make this statement to set at rest the statement that this contingent is not ready to go forward. We know the reasons why the war office has not seen fit to have the contingent sent forward. These reasons commend themselves to the war office, and we see no reason to dissent from them. The enormous number of men in training in Great Britain makes it not easy for the war office to provide accommodation for contingents from the overseas dominions."

Sir Robert added that in view of the unfortunate conditions suffered by the first contingent during the winter, Lord Kitchener and another official desired that the accommodation provided for the second contingent should be such as to give no reason for complaint. So the date for the going forward of the second contingent had been delayed, and in all things the government had followed the wishes of the war office.

The accident caused considerable delay and the game was called on account of darkness. P. H. (journalist), of Redcliff, refereed the game.

GERMANS AGAIN VIOLATE HAGUE CONVENTION.

A communication given out by the French ministry of marine claims that the Germans again have violated the Hague convention in their warfare. Article 1 of the eighth Hague convention provides that torpedoes carry an automatic attachment, which will cause them to sink if they do not explode, and thus cause to be a menace to navigation.

German torpedoes recently discovered in the English channel, the announcement declares, although not exploded were still floating. An explosion of them showed that the submergence appliance had been tightly knotted, permitting them to float. This made them into floating mines.
